

STUDENT CONFERENCE FINANCIAL SUPPORT (2021)

Our conference access fund is designed to assist individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds and who are engaged in research projects related to weather and climate, focusing on the science and its application, to attend and participate actively in this scientific conference.

The fund is available to support any individual where financial support from their institution, a research grant, or other funding bodies is not available to help them attend the conference.

This funding covers the registration fee only and relates to attendance at the virtual RMetsS Student & Early Careers Conference, 28th and 29th June 2021.

Eligibility

1. There is no financial support available from your institution, a research grant, or other funding to attend the conference.
2. A support statement is provided from your supervisor confirming your status and how you would benefit from attending the conference.
3. There is no restriction on an Applicant's nationality or country of residence.
4. There is no restriction on an Applicant's age.
5. Membership to the Society is not essential.
6. You do not need to have an oral or poster accepted for presentation at the conference, however priority will be given to those who are presenting.
7. The decision of the Society is final.
8. Within thirty days of the end of the conference the Applicant must send a short report on the conference of not more than one A4 page to the Society.

Please complete this form and return it to the Royal Meteorological Society by e-mail to conference@rmets.org by 18 June 2021.
